This was taken by the operators to mean that miners had finally agreed to accept scrip until the district should again be upon a cash basis. The action last night, therefore, came as a surprise to the operators. There is but one form of scrip in Goldfield, and that is being accepted as cash in all transactions except at the postoffice and express offices.

Murphy Says Hagan Had No Right to Pledge Hall's Support.

Pledge Hall's Support.

New York, Nov. 27.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, declared thay that James J. Hagan had no authority to pledge Tammany Hall's support to William J. Bryan for the Democratic nomination for the presidency as he did at the Bryan dinner in Washington last night. When Mr. Murphy's attention was called to Mr. Hagan's action he said:

"Hagan spoke for Hagan, not for Tammany Hall. No one is authorized to pledge the Tammany delegation. It Mr. Bryan is the nominee of the Democratic party for president, Tammany will support him loyally, but we are not pledging ourselves to any candidate at this time."

EX-CONVICT THROWS HIMSELF UNDER TRAIN.

Bellingham, Wash., Nov. 27.—A special to the Herald from Anacortes, Wash., says:

John Pollard, charged with criminal assault on the 13-year-old niece of his wife, narrowly escaped lynching by an agery rob lost night and only the promise of prompt punishment prevented the battering down o, the jail doors and the summary hanging of the prisoner. At a preliminary trial held late last night he was held to the superior court for trial. While being taken to the county jail at Mount Vernon this morning, Pollard broke away from the sheriff at Burlington Junction and threw himself in front of an approaching train. The locomotive and three cars passed over him. He died two hours later. Pollard was an ex-convict, having served pine years for high-way robbery and attempt at murder.

T. G. DRUGE AND DUKE OF PORTLAND

Evidence Goes to Show That They Were One and the Same Person.

DUKE KEPT A FALSE BEARD.

Mrs. Margaret Hamilton Said He Explained it Was Necessary When He Went as Druce.

London, Nov. 27 .- The hearing of the Druce case was resumed today, and examination of Miss Mary Robinson, who was an amanuensis for the late T. C. Druce, who is alleged o have been the fifth Duke of Portand, was concluded.

The corroboration of Miss Robinson's statement that she met Charles Dickens in Kensington gardens shortly before his death and was told by the novelist that Druce and the Duke the novelist that Druce and the Duke of Portland were the same person, counsel for the prosocution read an extract from the reminiscences of Sir Wemyss Reld, stating that he had seen Mr. Dickens walking in Rensington gardens with a young girl a week before he died.

Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, 70 years old, testified that Druce and the duke were the same person. She said the duke, whom she described as an old friend of her father's, always had extrined of her father's, always had a false beard in his pocket and had explained it was necessary when he went as Druce. The duke, the witness continued, had intended to marry her, but her father refused his consent. In 1864, the witness went on, the duke said to her:

"Madge Lam going to die." aid to her:
"Madge, I am going to die."

"Madge, I am going to die."
She replied:
"You don't look like it."
Witness's father explained to her that the Duke of Portland was going to cease to be Druce, and that there was going to be a tuneral. In 1866
she again saw her father and the duke
together in London, and size said
chaffingly to the duke:
"I thought you were dead and burled."

The called him Druce and it annoyed him.

The witness testified that she just saw the duke in 1876. He was den also T. C. Druce of the Baker street

Sacramenta, Cal., Nov. 27,-At a large inceting of the Sacramento bar associa-tion held today, with one voice in the negative only, it was decided that the special holiday legislation is vidous, dangerous and unconstitutional, and a committee was appointed to at once institute proceedings to bring the once institute proceedings to bring the subject before the supreme court. The reasons advanced for the judgment of the meetings are. It is special legislation, it does not operate uniformly and equally, it gives remedies to one class and denies them to another. The courts derive their jurisdictional power from the constitution, not from the statutes. Besides being special and class legislation, the association decided the acts trespass upon the fourteenth amondment to the federal Constitution, which says no citizen shall be denied the protection

BANKER WALSH'S TRIAL.

Chicago, Nov. 27 .- Asst. Dist.-Atty. Fletcher Dobyns, who is chief cour Fletcher Dobyns, who is chief counsel for the government in the trial of John R. Walsh, on the charge of misapplying funds of the defunct Chicago National bank, made an unsuccessful attempt to impeach the testimony of B. B. McKay, formerly private secretary to the defendant, in the federal court here today. The attempt was made because McKay, who has been on the stand nearly three days as a government witness, falled to answer questions satisfactorily. Judge Anderson ruled against the government's course because he considered that Mr. Dobyns had falled to lay a proper foundation for such action.
